

LACOMBE

The Orangemen celebrated the 12th with their usual ceremonies. A grand dinner was enjoyed at the Moreton House, after which they paraded the streets marching to the hall where speeches were made by local talent. In the evening a ball was given in Puffer's Hall.

At last we are enjoying fine weather. We were somewhat in despair at one time. The grain and crops generally did not suffer, but the roads were almost beyond anything ever known. Bridges were floating and as a consequence all travel was obliged to ford the streams.

Our trackmen are having a good time and at present are about the only ones with nothing to do. Several new residences are in course of erection. H. M. Trimble, W. Tove, and J. Beatty are all building very nice homes. The new elevator is about completed. It has a capacity for 37,000 bushels of grain.

The Vickers building block will soon be ready for the bank. Durick Bros. are in their new store and seem to be doing a good business. A new blacksmith shop on Railway street is nearly completed.

Mr. and Miss Robertson, of Scotland, are visiting their uncle, Dr. Poinletter.

A little boy near Lacombe met with a very serious accident last week. While coralling some cows he was thrown from his horse causing a compound fracture of the arm about one inch from the shoulder joint. The child is doing nicely and at present thinks look very favorable for his recovery.

During the last week several new settlers arrived and many of them have purchased farms near town.

Mr. Elliott has purchased a former residence of W. J. Tove on Hamilton avenue.

H. Kollerman has sold his farm and will move further back in the country. It is getting to be considered proper now to have a suitable foundation of stone or brick under buildings. Our wet seasons have proved very effectively the folly of resting a building on the earth with only wooden sills as a protection.

J. Hopps is starting a brick kiln near town and will soon have brick for local use.

At the examinations held recently by our local teachers Dora Howell held her class, making five splendid marks. Misses Forgy, Puffer and M. Dyer, G. Capron and N. Adams, have taken the entrance examination. Mr. Holbrook has been teaching the teachers' examination for third class. Those writing on the examinations are: Miss Vaughan, Miss Ward, Penhold, Miss Brader, Lacombe, Rev. W. J. Haghighi, of Lacombe, left for Edmonton last week.

July 15, 1901.

WETASKIWIN

Splendid growing weather. Trails are improving rapidly. Ponoka sports are fixed for the 18th. Early snow what is heading out. Carl Wobbe was in town early in the week.

The "manila" tree engine came to hand last week.

Mr. Cooper, license inspector, was in town on Saturday.

C. Young bought a bunch of over sixty head of cattle on Monday.

The water in the town creek has fallen considerably during the last few days.

Duhamel residents are arranging for holding sports about the beginning of August.

Mr. Tom Facey is building a residence immediately to the east of the public schools.

Haying has commenced here. Many farmers will have to rely on upland hay this year.

The Dravid hotel is being painted this week and is very much improved in appearance thereby.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rosenthal went to Banff last week. Mr. Rosenthal went through to the coast.

R. E. Holbrook returned from Lacombe on Saturday, where he had been conducting the examinations.

Mr. Wm. Egglestone has purchased the well known station "Pioneer Pete" from Mr. S. B. Talbot at a very handsome price.

P. Winter is in town with a band of very useful horses which he is offering for sale, the band numbers about 90 head.

Miss J. M. Robinson has been re-engaged as teacher of the pioneer detachment of the Wetaskiwin public school.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Ambler, of Battle river, were in town on Monday last, having been on a visit to Mr. Ben Amlier, northeast of town.

Dr. Robertson, of Montreal, arrived in town on Saturday last and intends opening an office here. He will be consulted at any time at the Criterion Hotel.

Mr. M. Marker, of the Wetaskiwin creamery, was successful in carrying off two first prizes for butter at the Calgary fair. Mr. Marker took first prize also in 1899, at Calgary.

Mrs. and Miss Lottie Gould have gone to Banff on a visit for the benefit of the health of Miss Lottie, who has been ill for some time. We hope the trip will do her good and that she will soon return quite restored.

On Monday morning there was an alarm of fire in town caused by one of the workmen setting fire to a small quantity of material on the roof of Hall Brothers' new building. The fire was made a dash for the town fire engine and for a few moments there was considerable excitement on the part of our amateur firemen. Fortunately, however, there was no need for their services as the danger was over before they could reach the place.

The Wetaskiwin summer fair and sports were held on Monday and Tuesday last week. Mr. Rosenthal was not as large as in previous years. The exhibits were not very numerous partly owing to the early date and partly to the bad condition of the trails which prevented many people coming in. The sports were fairly well attended by the usual sporting elements, but the general opinion appeared to be that the sports taken as a whole were a very poor affair—not at all up to the usual standard.

The remarks in our last issue as to the town creek and the urgent necessity of taking steps to prevent future damage arising therefrom seem to have aroused the attention of many of our readers. There is talk in town of calling a meeting with a view to some action being taken in connection therewith. We believe a preliminary informal survey will be made during the next few days to ascertain roughly the levels on a proposed route and as a guide towards further action either in diverting the creek or in draining the sloughs which feed the creek. During the last week the water level has fallen considerably and there is a danger that seeing the trouble is probably over for the season some may feel inclined to put off any action to some future time.

We are firmly impressed that knowing the probability of an occurrence of the flooding at any time, the matter should have prompt and immediate attention.

LACOMBE

Advertise.
Mrs. Beatty and children are camping at Jackfish lake.

H. Maxfield has again taken possession of the city hotel.

Mayor Ritchie, of Strathcona, was doing business in town on Tuesday last.

W. F. Puffer paid Edmonton and Strathcona a business visit last Tuesday.

Miss Boyd, of the public school teaching staff, is spending her holidays in Calgary.

Mrs. H. B. Howell and children are holidaying at their summer quarters on Gull lake.

Miss Mary Kettys, of Clearwater, is visiting in town with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Skinner.

Joseph Farr arrived on Thursday from Edmonton, where he has just written on the examination for third class teachers' certificate. John Reaygar, where he has been working for some time, arrived the same day from Edmonton.

M. J. Macleod left by Tuesday's train for the east on a well earned holiday outing. He will take the Calgary exhibition on his way east.

Mr. Macleod will spend most of his time at his old home in Charlottetown, P. E. I., but will also visit the chief eastern cities.

The following discovery made by one of our merchants is an infallible proof of the property of the country: A few years ago the average waist measurement of the men's overalls purchased was from 32 to 34 inches, now the size required ranges from 36 to 40 inches, with an occasional 44.

Rev. W. J. Haghighi, who has been assistant pastor of the Methodist church here for nearly two years, left by Friday's train for Edmonton where he will supply until college opens before leaving. Mr. Haghighi was presented with a handsome purse by his friends of the different denominations represented here.

On Saturday evening, 6th inst., Mr. Fred Haugh and Miss Hulda Schmuck were married at the home of Rev. M. White. Both are well and favorably known in Lacombe and vicinity, having been among the first settlers. They will reside for the present with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barnett.

VACCINATION OF CHILDREN
ATTENDING SCHOOL
Regina, Tuesday, June 18, '01.

Under the provisions of the public health ordinance with respect to compulsory vaccination and in view of the existence of small pox in various parts of the Territories, His Honor the lieutenant-governor, by and with the advice of the executive council, has been pleased to order that, on and after the first day of August next, every pupil attending any school conducted under the school ordinance be vaccinated, unless such pupil gives satisfactory proof of recent vaccination.

PRO-WAR SENTIMENT IN LONDON.
There was a meeting held at the Guild hall on the 10th in support of the government's war policy. It was a great success from the "jingo" point of view. The idea originated on the stock exchange and was intended as an offset to the recent pro-peace gathering at Queen's Hall. The Lord Mayor, Frank Green, and the other city magnates did their utmost to assure its success. A resolution was passed that the Guild hall, having a capacity of 4,000 persons, did not suffice to contain the crowd which necessitated an overflow meeting outside, where the pro-war enthusiasts made a demonstration of an even more pronounced character than that of the stock brokers within. Patriotic songs broken out at intervals, both within and without the building. The British generals were cheered, and the names of Henry Labouchere and other Red sympathizers were hissed and booed. The Lord Mayor presided, surrounded by conservative members of the house of commons, bankers and others. A resolution expressing complete confidence in the South African policy of the government and protesting against the unparliamentary attacks of the opposition were passed in the midst of wild scenes of enthusiasm.

SOME CENSUS RESULTS.

A special despatch from Ottawa says that the census returns will show a population of French-Canadians in Ontario of 300,000, and will also show that in some constituencies in Ontario there is an actual majority of French-Canadians. The despatch says: "There is but one county, Brombe, where the English speaking residents are in the majority. Ontario," it adds, "has not progressed at the same rate as Quebec and may lose three M. P.'s at Ottawa. The population in about 20 counties in Quebec has diminished, but on the other hand considerable increase is noticed in 45 other counties. The total population of Quebec would appear to be 1,800,000."

Lord Roberts has decided that in future the use of the rifle must be the first consideration in the training of recruits for all arms of the British service. Sword, lance and bayonet exercises have been abolished. A board of expert cavalry officers has pronounced the sword to be practically useless in warfare, although a sword of different pattern will remain part of a cavalryman's equipment.

In the house of commons on the 15th, J. Austen Chamberlain, financial secretary of the treasury, detailing the progress of the Pacific cable said that several sectional cable houses had already been constructed and sent out, and were being erected at the various landing places. The survey had been satisfactorily completed over 1500 miles of the proposed route and the manufacture of cable would begin this week. Mr. Chamberlain said landing sites had been selected at Queensland, New Zealand, Norfolk Island, between New Zealand and New Caledonia, and that the cable would be satisfied by the ability of the contractor to complete the work by the end of 1902.

ANOTHER STORM.

A second storm, of the same nature but not of the same extent as the one of the 10th, visited the town Tuesday. This one commenced shortly after noon and continued for an hour. It came from the east accompanied by a very light wind, and was composed of rain and hail. The hail was not by any means as imposing in size as that of the preceding visitation and not nearly as much damage was done. The greater amount of havoc wrought was by the water, which being flooded in many parts of town. The streets were again converted into formidable streams which, exceeding the capacity of the ditches, ran over everywhere. During the storm of the tenth the rain-fall was in round figures an inch and a half. On Tuesday two inches of rain fell in an equally short space of time. A few skylights were broken by the hail and Ross' greenhouse again sustained great damage in the way of broken glass and flooding. On Main street Stovells, Asley's, Galt's, Morris' and the Grand Central's bellows received more or less water. Stovells was filled to the floor, the water lapping the top steps of the stairs. Luckily he had not had time to get his goods replaced after the previous deluge, having been engaged in removing the large quantities of Alberta's produce which had been deposited there. Asley, however, had his goods replaced and was only successful in getting part of them again drenched up when the rising waters overtook him and set the rest adrift on the muddy tide. A steam engine and steam pump were procured and the night was spent in pumping the water out of Stovells' basement. In the morning the operation was repeated in Asley's and Galt's.

Reports indicate that the storm did not extend to any considerable distance in the country. There was no hail at St. Albert, Leduc or Fort Saskatchewan. Some fell in the Horse Hills settlement but not enough to do any damage. In Strathcona a few windows were broken and the camp of the workmen on the railway flooded out. Portions of the embankments which they had constructed were carried away.

Since writing the above still another atmospheric visitation has been handed out to our happy citizens, seemed to be a celebration with plenty of noise and unlimited fireworks. The elements ran riot for awhile and provided a variegated programme of hail, thunder and lightning of a large but highly unpretentious nature. The storm lasted an hour or more and during that time about the regulation two inches of moisture fell. The hail was not large, the stock of baseballs, apparently being used for the purpose, as usual were flooded but in town there was little other damage done. Gardens are beyond injury and for the storm extended to the country is not known as the roads have been too soft since to permit of any travel.

SUPREME COURT.

Supreme court is in session before Judge McGuire. The sittings commenced Wednesday. The docket is large, too large to be completed in six weeks steady work, and only one or two cases can be disposed of in this fashion but leave for Regina on Monday, at least the sittings of the court on hand there. The first case to be heard was Arometz and Wagner. This was the bank book case, in which the accused, Wagner, was given a sum of money by Arometz to conduct a bank credit in the bank. The money was used by the accused but afterwards returned to Arometz in full. The case was only concluded this morning, shortly before dinner. C. de W. MacDonald prosecuted and Messrs. Bown and Cross acted for the accused. In summing up the foreman his leniency was such that he would have to take into account the fact that the money had been returned, showing that the intention of the accused had not been to defraud the complainant out of it, but merely to make use of the funds temporarily. This was very commendable in the court's view. Taking into account these extenuating circumstances he would give the accused only three months imprisonment.

The previous case against Wagner, known as the Arometz lien note case, which was tried by Judge Scott some months ago and ended in a verdict pending the decision of the attorney-general on the reference of a technical point, was concluded by his excellency, Mr. Justice McGuire. A sentence of two months was imposed in this case, the sentence to run consecutively, making five months in all. In this case a largely signed petition, asking for the release of the court, was handed to his lordship.

The next case to come up was the one against Jack Sewell, charged with resisting arrest and stabbing his officer in the discharge of his duty. Sergt. Aston, the victim of Sewell's carving propensities, gave a corroborating account of the story of the fight and arrest. He had been on duty on the bridge on the 10th inst. On the 2nd June, when a passenger told him of a disturbance at the residence of Mr. Stewart, caused by some drunken men trying to get into the house, Aston was on foot and walked up. On arrival he found Sewell hammering on the door. When he endeavored to arrest him Sewell fought, and in the light used a knife. The sergeant showed to the court a scar on the palm of his hand which he bears as a result of the meeting. At last Sewell was taken, but not without having exhausted by the struggle and some passengers had lent their aid. Dr. Braithwaite told of the dressing of the sergeant's hand. The doctor said, were judged, one was particularly deep, but none were necessarily dangerous. As the sergeant was being taken to the hospital, he was working at the home of one of the witnesses named by Sewell and of seeing the scarp of the knife between the sergeant and Sewell, who is a noted character in police circles. The case was not concluded when court adjourned for lunch.

Owing to the press of work court sits each morning at nine instead of ten as formerly.

LOCAL.

—Miss Annie Rosenbarger returned to Innisfail Wednesday.

—Jas. Huff has bought out John Grov's water business.

—Chief Smart, of the Calgary fire brigade, came up Tuesday returning the following morning.

—Rev. D. G. McQueen returns tomorrow night from a visit to the south. He will be accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Martin, of Berlin, Ont.

—Thos. Kerr, the Hudson's Bay Company's trader at Little Red River, came to Peace, below Fort Vermilion, came in from the north yesterday and left this morning for his home in Scotland on a visit.

—During the absence of Rev. Mr. McQueen, Rev. W. A. Taylor, of Innisfail, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church here Sunday morning and Rev. Fleming, of Strathcona, in the evening.

—Miss Reid, graduate of Michigan State Normal Conservatory is taking pupils for violin, piano and organ, residence Howard Street. Miss Reid is well known to Edmonton people as an expert performer on the violin.

—The liquor license commissioners sat here yesterday to consider the application of Valdemar and Mettew, of St. Mary, and V. Matjeka, Wetaskiwin, for hotel licenses. The applications of R. Vane and V. Matjeka were approved and recommended.

—Two samples of potatoes one from the farm of H. Corbett, Horse Hills, and the other from that of J. Wilson, also of Horse Hills are on exhibition in our office window. The potatoes, particularly the last mentioned ones, are of an exceptionally large size for this season of the year.

—A settler from Clover Bar, who was in town yesterday, says that Tuesday's storm struck that district and had done considerable damage to the following settlers there: Byers, Gros, Van Camp, Macdonald, P. O'Connell, I. Doze and P. Echob. Mr. Smith and the Daly Bros. were also struck, but escaped severely as the others mentioned.

—J. C. Griffith returned from Yermilion, Peace river, yesterday. Mr. Griffith was out on a year ago with H. P. Davis trading outfit, in the interests of Ross Bros. Mr. Davis, one of the old time trappers and pioneers of the country, died on the way and was buried at Lesser Slave lake. The outfit was taken down by Mr. Griffith and returned with this season's trade of furs.

—A new model duck boat is being built by Messrs. Houston and Yeager at the former's fur warehouse, Jasper avenue. It is 13 feet in length and has a two foot eight inch beam. The plan is similar to that of the Eskimo kayak. That the boat is entirely covered over, like a whale-back, except at the bow where the launcher and steersman sit. A canvas screen in front will hide the occupants from the game until they have approached within range. The boat is light and neatly built and is attracting much attention from sportsmen who will watch its success in the duck shooting season opens.

—An excellent programme of sports has been arranged for the Horticultural picnic on the 25th and nothing will be left undone to make this a very enjoyable day's pleasure. The following is a list of the programme: Football matches, junior and senior; baseball matches, junior and senior; foot races, novices, races, tug-of-war, etc. The picnic will be served from 12 to 2, and supper from 5 to 7, 25c being charged. A commodious booth will be erected for the sale of refreshments, and shelter for teams will be provided free of charge. No entrance fee to the picnic. Mr. O'Rourke, P. M. McCauley, M. L. A., and several clergymen will deliver addresses.

—Chas. H. Lamb, died at the general hospital here on the 13th, at the age of forty years, after a brief illness from typhoid fever. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from McIntosh & Campbell's undertaking rooms to the Edmonton cemetery. The casket was borne by Messrs. Gray, Rev. H. A. Gray. The pall bearers were Messrs. Bishop, Clark, Butcher, Sloan, and Chas. H. Gray. The deceased was a school boy friend of Geo. M. Manuel, of Edmonton, their first meeting after many years taking place in the hospital here. Mr. Manuel took charge of the funeral of his late friend, Mr. H. L. Lambert, a brother-in-law of Chas. H. Lamb, from Sloan City, B. C., to be present at the funeral.

Travelers from points east of here say that a cloud burst visited the lake district, in the Beaver Hills, on Tuesday night last. The rain came steadily and for some time deluged the land. Mud lake was never known to have an outlet but in thirty minutes of rain the water started to flow over the hills and a river thirty yards wide and four feet deep was flowing out of it. The water rose four feet over the bridge and bridge was washed out the fences in its way, tearing up tamarac posts as though they were straws. The creek rose until it overflowed the banks. The down pour was accompanied by a lightning bolt not enough to do damage. Wm. Mailland had a steer killed by lightning.

—Wm. A. Moore, one of Red Deer's newly elected councillors, and his brother, J. C. Moore, a student of the university, Toronto, were in town last week. Mr. A. Moore is proprietor of the Red Deer stone quarry, just opened up, and his trip to Edmonton is to open a market here for the product of the quarry. The stone, Mr. Moore says, is of the same quality as the Calgary stone. The chief difficulty present in the marketing of the stone is the distance from the quarry to the city and the consequent expense of hauling the stone across the river. This will be remedied when the railway extension is completed. The rough stone L. A. Red Deer is sold for $7 a cord. The freight rate is $21 a car and a car holds five cords to four cords. Adding another $7 a cord for hauling across the river would bring the stone to about $21 a cord here. A cord of stone is supposed to be three thousand bricks as far as a thousand of brick.

—The German-Baptists are commencing the erection of a church on Nanango avenue, near W. Wagner's residence.

—Mrs. Jas. Lawrence, formerly Miss Florence Leduc, of Strathcona, arrived from her home at Vermilion, on the 10th inst., on a visit to her parents here.

—Mrs. Wilson and family are at the Athabasca Landing on their way to Edmonton. Mrs. Wilson is the wife of the Hudson's Bay Co. officer at Vermilion.

—H. H. Lawrence, of Vermilion, is on the way from that Landing, accompanied by his two sons, Mr. Lawrence is one of the pioneer farmers of the Vermilion country and is the owner of a saw and lumbermill there.

—Clement Paul, trader at Wolverine Point, on the Peace, is in with his wife. A despatch to-day says: "Bride arrived at Battleford to-day. He may stay a few days and then proceed to Prince Albert. He is feeling well and in good spirits."

—Having been worshipping at the shrine of Col. Dent it is but natural that the Calgary Herald should be zealous to fly to his defence. The Bulletin mentioned a telegram which was sent to Col. Dent asking him who was responsible for the information given him that there were no horses to be procured in Edmonton. Col. Dent did not see fit to reply and the Bulletin commented on the fact. The Herald now excuses him on the ground that the telegram was not "official." But the sender known that Col. Dent was a diplomat as well as a horse buyer he would of course have communicated with him through the lieutenant governor, in order that the proprieties of state might not be outraged. Col. Dent advertised that he would be in Edmonton on the 12th and arrangements were made here accordingly. Notices were sent out to far outlying points to men who were known to have horses for sale. These men received their horses and came in with them, more than Col. Dent had in the meantime changed his mind having been informed by some one who was sending him a telegram in his name, that there were no horses available here. Was it then to advertise he was coming and then change his mind on the advice of one who lacks name, as well as knowledge of what he professes to know? Col. Dent sent word to both Mr. McQueen, M. L. A. and Insp. Crosthwaite, N. W. M. P., inquiring as to the number of horses available and was advised in each case he was informed that the prospects were good. Yet the word of the unknown ruler, "If Edmonton has no horses for sale, more than Col. Dent had in the meantime changed his mind" says the Herald. We would remark that the telegram that Col. Dent had refused to come to Edmonton to see if there were any horses for sale or not.

TAKEN IN THE NORTH.

When Alphonse Delorme jumped his mail and lit out for the unknown north, he told his half-breed confederate at Lac la Poudre and Peminau river that he would shoot the first mounted policeman who tried to take him. He would not be taken alive. That Alphonse was mistaken on at least rash in his remarks is now proven. He arrived from the north yesterday in charge of one of the best non-coms in the force and was very much alive and very quiet. Delorme obtained money by false pretences on a scrip deal, so he is charged, and rather than stay and face the music at the court, he hit the trail for parts unknown, leaving the police and his bandmates anxiously inquiring as to his whereabouts. He took to the woods, striking first to Lac la Poudre and then on to the Pembina river. He was looking for some safe retreat and in the forests of the north he hoped to find it. On the Pembina he got a good head start, but down that stream to Lesser Slave river, then up the river to the eastern end of the lake of the same name. Here, in the woods, one hundred and thirty miles above the Athabasca Landing, he hoped to find security and safety. His fish and small game was plentiful and the long arm of the law could never reach that far. But down at the Landing in a post of Northwest mounted police, the ears and arms of the law in the north. Delorme had only started to make his home in the wilderness when they heard of him. But the country was big and the man hard to locate, but Corporal Phillips and Constable Edson set to work to locate him. Meanwhile Delorme shot and fished in fancied security. Occasionally a travelling band of Indians would be met and travellers on their way to the lake passed up the river some distance away. On day Delorme was met by Delorme held out some surveyors appeared. They were on their way to join Fairchild's survey party, but were tired and wanted to rest. While they rested they would have a game of cards. Would Delorme join them? Certainly, one of the things Delorme was good at was cards. So they took him away to their camp and when outside of his own camp he found that the game he was playing in was not a game of cards but one of the little games the N. W. M. P. put up when they wanted a man without any necessary blood. The surveyor was Constable Ball. The long head of Constable Phillips had been too much for the man who would never be taken alive. He had tried to bury himself in the wilderness, lose his personality in the name of a hunter, but he was nowhere, but the long arm reached out and gathered him into the fold of the evil doer. At the police barracks he now awaits his trial which will probably be not until next sitting of the court.

Delorme this afternoon received two months at the Fort.

One cause of the financial closeness of the west is the constant stream of money poured from the country to the manufacturers and large dealers of the east. Every dollar spent in your own town is a dollar kept within reach of your purse for some future day. The business man who saves five per cent by having his printing done in the east is on a par with his loudly condemned customer who saves ten per cent by purchasing his hardware from the departmental establishments of the east.

In the land department of the Hudson's Bay Company during the year ending May 31st, the receipts amounted to $252,535 and expenses (including $80,530 for the purchase of land for the year, as compared with $110,000 and $120,110 last year. The sales of farm lands were 71,700 acres for $381,487, as compared with 69,598 acres for $321,702 last year, the average price per acre being $4.90, against $4.98 for 1900, and $6.07, 1900, as compared with $5.47 in the previous year.

Clearing Sale

—AT THE—
Hudson's Bay Store

Shirt Waists!

Shirt Waists!

On Saturday, July 20th, every Shirt Waist we have in will be put on our bargain counter at prices which have before been seen in Edmonton, and which we believe cannot be met by any competitor.

We are not clearing out old stock. We have no old stock. Shirt Waists. All goods offered are 1901 goods—the very most fashionable and up-to-date productions of the best weavers. The greater part of the White Waists offered, and some of the Colored, have been received within the last eight weeks.

Nevertheless all are going at prices which will cause previous clearing sale held in Edmonton to dwindle into insignificance. We intend this 20th July to be known hereafter as

Shirt Waist

Saturday...

Owing to the fact that the manufacturers were not able to clear these white goods in time for the very early trade, we only now get them into stock at a heavy discount, and consequently we must sell at what the same goods would cost after other merchants still make a handsome profit.

But we don't want this in case; we want to clear the goods out, and avoid having any old stock to offer next season. Consequently we are giving the public the benefit, and these values are not to be met by anybody else without going far below cost.

Here are a few of the values offered:
(Remember all are fresh, new goods, no back numbers)

Good Print Waists, beautifully made, good patterns at 45c and 50c.
Dark Blues, and Reds, very popular patterns, worth $1, for 65c.
Fine Gingham, dainty stripes, pretty shades, for 75c.

Better Gingham, handsome stripes, cheap at $1.25, for 90c.
Handsome Black and White or Colored Stripes, trimmed with insertion, worth $1.50 to $1.75 for $1.10.

In White Shirt Waists we will offer
Fine Cambric, tucked and pleated, - worth $1.25 for 90c.
" " hemstitched, very dainty, - worth 1.20 for 1.00.
" " tucks and insertion, - worth 1.75 for 1.50.
